three Heroes to Be Rewarded.

New York, Sept. 20.—Ninety-three heroes, who within the last year have saved the lives of drowning persons in the waters around New York, were presented with medals or certificates of honor at the city hall by the United States Volunteer Life Saving Corps. Ten-year-old Minnie Richard, of Brooklyn, was the idol of the occasion. The girl risked her life one day this summer to save a girl from drowning in Gravesend bay, getting the girl ashore after having been twice pulled under the water by her. As the little life saver walked blushingly to the platform to receive a silver medal she was greeted with cheers and applause, which so embarrassed her that she had to cover her face with her handkerchief. It was a notable fact that the majority of medal winners were boys. There were also several women
